FALL 2024

"I like riding Isaiah because he is a good boy. When I ride I feel good, comfy and calm."

Emerson

Dear {{Informal Name}},

Emerson's mom has a few words for you too: She's SO HAPPY that Emerson is happy. He's only been riding for a month but he values riding above TV !

Riding has opened conversations about controlling your emotions because horses can feel what you're feeling.

Now Emerson gets that understanding your emotions helps you have good friends... like Isaiah and kids in your class.

Thank you for giving Emerson a chance to build his future.

Triumph at Special Olympics

Meet Sarah Parrack. Her grin speaks volumes about the sense of accomplishment a Gold Medal brings.

Believe us! It's not just an individual win. Eleven Turning Point riders competed with the assistance of 6 horses, 6 staff members and 23 volunteers.

That's Emily on Stanley and applaud the whole crew with medals below.

HEARTS FOR HOOFBEATS

New horses like Stanley, Cactus, Jess and Bandit are CRITICAL to serving additional riders. But they also mean additional feed, vet checks and training. Turning Point is dedicating GIVING TUESDAY to raising $6000 to support a special group of horses who BUILD FUTURES.

STANLEY

New Horse on the Block

Stanley is a 20 year old Palomino who came to us this Fall from a local veterinarian. He was a barrel racer and roper but was apparently meant to be a therapeutic riding horse as he was a star at Special Olympics. He brings a gentle soul, steadiness and heart to riders who need extra confidence.

HOMECOMING WAS A NEW BB CHALLENGE

Here's the "behind the scenes" story: A flat tire moved BB and his crew from parade entry 39 to 90. Thank you to Sea of Orange organizers who gave us time to fix the tire and to all the kids who cheered for BB in the parade!

MEET PAIGE

Paige Bothello is the new Program Coordinator at Turning Point. That means she will be developing equine assisted programs for new audiences such as adults in group homes or leadership teams in local organizations.

She is also a PATH Certified Instructor, CTRI, and a PATH Equine Specialist in Mental Health and Learning, ESMHL. So, she also teaches classes.

Paige was born and raised in Bermuda but just happened to move to Oklahoma with her husband this summer! We are thrilled to add her experience!
